

AMDA Institute of Health Science
Butwal-07, Rupandehi

Report on Saraswati Puja

Introduction

Saraswati Puja is an annual celebration at AMDA Institute of Health Science, Butwal that brings together students, faculty and staff to honor Goddess Saraswati, the deity of wisdom, knowledge, and the arts. The event serves as a spiritual and cultural occasion, emphasizing the importance of education, creativity and learning. The puja is celebrated with enthusiasm and devotion by all members of the college community.

Date and Time

The Saraswati Puja at AMDA Institute of Health Science College is typically held on the occasion of Vasant Panchami, which usually falls in late January or early February, depending on the Hindu calendar. The event was celebrated on Magh 21, 2081.

Preparations

Students and faculty came together to prepare for the event. It was celebrated in front of the college building. A picture of Goddess Saraswati was placed at the center, surrounded by books, flowers, fruits, colorful decorations and other items symbolizing learning and knowledge.

Students actively participated in the decoration of the space.

Student Participation

The students of PCL in Nursing, Diploma in Pharmacy and PCL in General Medicine actively participated in all aspects of the Saraswati Puja. From organizing the event to taking part in the rituals and performances, students played a important role in ensuring the success of the celebration. The occasion symbolizes a sense of unity and community within the college, bringing together students from various departments and backgrounds.

For the students of AMDA Institute of Health Science, Butwal Saraswati Puja is not just a religious festival but an important cultural event that connects them academically. By participating in the puja, students expressed their gratitude for the knowledge they have gained and seeked blessings for future success in their studies and careers in the healthcare field.

Conclusion

The Saraswati Puja at AMDA Institute of Health Science was an important and well-loved tradition that highlights the importance of education, knowledge and culture. It brought together the academic community in a spirit of devotion and celebration, giving a sense of unity among students, faculties and staffs. The event serves as both a spiritual and cultural milestone. Through this celebration, the college continues to honor the goddess of wisdom and learning, seeking her blessings for the growth and success of all those who are part of its community.

